COXEY AND THE SENATE

Senators Discuss the Proposed Invasion of Washington.

THEY HAVE NO FEARS OF RIOTING.

The Federal Laws and Officials Ample to Protect the Capitol—Coxey's Proposed Aid, the "Calvacade," Wearing Tower for His Personal Benefit.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The Coxey movement received its first recognition at the hands of the senate yesterday. The question was brought up in executive session, and was under consideration for an hour and a half the senate remaining in session until 6 o'clock. No formal action was taken, and the matter was considered very informally, there being a suggestive feeling that as there were several organizations of men approaching Washington with the avowed purpose of forcing recognition to the way of legislation it behooved congress to decide what it would do in case of the arrival of large numbers of men of the character and with the purpose of Mr. Coxey's followers.

Senator Harris, speaking for the committee on rules, said that the committee had had the question under consideration, and after an examination of the statutes bearing upon the question of the invasion of the Capitol grounds by organized bodies of men, had reached the conclusion that the laws now on the statute books made ample provision for the protection of the building and of congress, and that the committee had taken the necessary steps to see that the laws were executed.

There was a very meagre attendance of the senators while the question was under consideration but many of those present spoke kindly, a majority of them expressing the view that no danger was to be apprehended except possibly from thieves and other hard characters who might take advantage of the presence of the Coxeyites to make trouble and the opinion was general that preparation should be made to look after them very closely. The impression also seems general that the regularly organized police would be capable of executing the laws during the presence of the army, and that it would not be necessary to make any especial show of armed force.

THE "CROWDED" LITTLE GAME.

"Working" Towns in Advance Agent for Coxey and His Followers.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 19.—Coxey's navy sailed into harbor once when it reached Mauselk. A run of twenty miles was made between breakfast and sunset, the flotilla drawing up under the Hanselk bridge for a late and hasty supper at dusk. But the supper had to come out of the commissary wagons. The town authorities refused to vote either money or provisions to the army, so that crackers and cheese were the best they could get out of their own resources. But a greater poverty than this greeted the leaders. Private charity that might have gone to them had been drained the day before by two agents in the camp. The "Unknown," with the veiled lady and "Cheek" Childs, a young man who had been the army's advance agent from Massillon, had come to town the previous day, held a public meeting and raised a sum of money, how much could not be learned on the strength of credentials from Coxey in Childs' pocket-book. Browne and Coxey at once published an open letter, denouncing the men as impostors, and asking their arrest for obtaining money under false pretenses. Bergen Ditto, of the town council identified Browne as an Indian doctor man who had visited the town three years ago with a patent blood purifier.

Captain Galvin's Industrials.

SEYMOUR, Ind., April 19.—Captain Galvin, with 225 members of Frye's Industrial army, arrived here yesterday. Citizens immediately provisioned them with half a slaughtered bullock, 500 pounds of bacon, 500 loaves of bread, a bag of coffee potatoes and cabbage. At Auburn, Ind., just outside the Ohio state line, the army left the cars and encamped in the railway machine shops. They will march into Ohio to relieve the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern of liability for dragging vagabonds into the state.

Refuse to Convey the Industrials East.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—The Chicago officials of the Santa Fe decline to ratify the arrangement made in this city for the transportation of 500 Industrialists from Mojave to Chicago, as the situation there would not warrant the importation of so many men, but only aggravate present conditions. Chief of Police Crowley says he will do nothing further for the men, and they must walk or do as others have done.

SUING SECRETARY CARLISLE

A Discharged Clerk Seeks Reinstatement Through Legal Process.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The course of Secretary Carlisle in removing from office certain Republican officials of the treasury who held office under the civil service laws is to be tested in the courts. Attorneys W. W. Miller and Richard H. Beall, of this city, applied to the supreme court of the District of Columbia for a mandamus compelling the secretary to reinstate Eugene J. Geddis, over whose case there was some very extraordinary action between the civil service commission and the secretary. Geddis makes charges against Register of the Treasury Tillman in his petition which will tend to stir up the civil service reformers. He asserts that the register attempted to coerce him in his political action, and that his refusal to change his politics was the real cause of his discharge.

Mr. Geddis from Akron, O., and took the civil service examination in '92 having appointed to a $1,200 clerkship in the second auditor's office. By three successive promotions he attained a salary of $1,800, and on September, 1893, because of his success in the prescribed competitive examination, he was again promoted to $1,200. He was detailed by Secretary Foster, in February, 1892, the last month of the Harrison administration, to serve on the central board of examiners of the civil service commission. His record for efficiency it is said, has always been of the highest.

Judge Bradley signed an order for the secretary to show cause on Tuesday, April 24, at 10 a. m., why the mandamus should not be issued, and a marshal served the notice on Secretary Carlisle.

Sister Sues' Manager Confesses.

TRENTON, N. J., April 19.—Louis Fiehle has confessed to the murder of Christian Zeus. Fiehle was arrested for the crime several months ago, and is now in the county jail awaiting trial at the May term of court. Last November he broke into Yerker' bakery and secured a sum of money, a gold watch and other valuables, but was discovered by Baker Zeus, whom he stabbed in a particularly brutal manner. Zeus died a few days later. Some weeks ago a man was committed to the county jail on the charge of robbing a jewelry store in Bridgeton. He was really a Pinkerton detective, and has succeeded in warming a confession from the accused man. The stolen goods have been found in a barn on a farm owned by Fiehle's brother, as indicated in the confession.

David Dudley Field's Will.

NEW YORK, April 19.—Justice Stephen J. Field, of the United States supreme court, filed for probate the will of his brother, David Dudley Field. Most of the estate, whose value is not stated, is left to his daughter, Lady Musgrave, and her children. To the town of Stockbridge, Mass., he gives $5,000, so that the town graveyard, where his ancestors lie, may be kept in order and the bell in the belfry, which he erected, may be tolled once each day. He gives $5,000 to his native town of Haddam, Conn., so that the Field parks may be kept in order.

Natural Gas in the Empire State.

ROUSEVILLE, N. Y., April 19.—A dispatch from Fayette, Seneca county, says: While drilling a well in the hamlet of Beaty-town, at a depth of 920 feet, a strong flow of gas was struck. Excitement among the villagers in running high, and land has advanced fabulously in price. Village lots and dwellings are held at many times their value, and prospectors are trying with more or less success to organize companies to sink wells all over the adjacent property. Already the citizens are talking of incorporating the hamlet.

Mad Wreck Narrowly Averted.

GOSHEN, Ind., April 19.—The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern eastbound limited narrowly escaped a bad wreck. While running at a high rate of speed through Dunlap the engine struck the caboose of a freight train standing on a side track, which had not cleared the main track. Engineer Charles Melcher remained at his post and was very seriously injured. Fireman Hopper jumped and sustained severe injuries by being thrown against the fence. The buffet car was stove in and most of the contents of the dining car demolished.

Verdict in the Gaylord Mine Disaster.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 19.—The coroner's jury investigating the Gaylord mine accident last evening returned the following verdict: "We, the jury, find that the thirteen men who were killed in the Gaylord mine at Plymouth on Feb. 19 came to their deaths through an error of judgment on the part of the persons or persons in charge of the party at the time. The men were allowed to remain in a place that, it appears to the jury, must have been plainly dangerous for some hours prior to the cave in."

IN SENATE AND HOUSE

Democrats Claim Authorship of the Quorum Counting Rule.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The house devoted the entire day to general debate on the executive and diplomatic appropriation bill. It covered a wide variety of subjects, and as there was no limit of interesting presentation. The Hawaiian policy of the present administration came in for a good share of attention. The appointment of Mr. Van Alen as minister to Italy provoked a very extended discussion. It was held up to ridicule by the Republicans, who intimated that it was a direct reward for his $50,000 contribution to the Democratic campaign fund.

The Democrats, in defending the appointment, tried to counter on the Harrison administration by detailing the history of the $400,000 campaign fund raised by ex-Postmaster General Wanamaker. Later in the day Mr. Wise took up the authorship of quorum counting as a parliamentary question, and quoted from the Record to show that the first proposition in this line had been offered by J. Randolph Tucker, a Virginia Democrat, in 1880 when it had been vigorously opposed by Mr. Reed.

Mr. Walker, of Massachusetts, met this attack on the ex-speaker's fame by speedily cast before the house the record of the Democratic opposition to the quorum counting rule in the Fifty-first congress, Speaker Crisp leading in the opposition.

The proceedings in the senate were void of any incidents of special interest. Good progress was made in the discussion of the tariff bill, speeches being made against it by Senators Morrill, Cameron and Quay, and for it by Senator Turpie. The announcement of Senator Mills that he would speak on the tariff bill next Tuesday, following the statement of Senator Hunton on Tuesday that he wanted time for one Democratic senator to close the debate next Tuesday before the bill is taken up by paragraphs, is taken to mean that Senator Mills has been selected by the majority to make the closing argument, and that he is likely to be Senator Vance's successor on the finance committee.

Murderer Exposed by Spiritualism.

POMEROY, O., April 19.—This city has been shaken by a succession of sensational shocks, which terminated last night in a dramatic tragedy. March 31 Mrs. Elizabeth Slaughter, widow, aged 65 years, was murdered on the porch of Cheyney Staples, her tenant. Staple and his wife were away from home and returned at midnight. He claimed that when they reached home he fell over her dead body. Officers secured evidence sufficient to convict him and were about to make the arrest when he was accosted by an alleged spiritual medium while pacing in his garden. She accused him of the crime, and gave him details of how the deed was done. He turned deadly pale, walked into the house and blew out his brains.

Flood Disasters in Armenia.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 19.—The melting of large bodies of snow in the province of Erzeroum, Armenia, has caused disastrous floods, and consequently great damage and suffering. In the town of Van, near the city of Erzeroum floods have so undermined hundreds of buildings occupied as dwellings, shops etc., that the houses have fallen in many cases, burying their occupants. The reports received here state that many persons and thousands of cattle, horses, etc., have perished through the falling of buildings, drowning, hunger and exposure.

An Aristocratic Poisoner.

ANTWERP, April 19.—Madame Jonlaux, a lady occupying a high position in society throughout Belgium, has been arrested on suspicion of having poisoned her brother and four other wealthy relatives in order to obtain the insurance on their lives. Marie Therese Joulaux is the wife of Henri Joulaux, chief state engineer of roads and bridges in the province of Antwerp. She is the daughter of the eminent Belgian General Ablay and niece of a former aide-de-camp of King Leopold.

The passengers were obliged to stand still while one desperado covered them with a revolver the other rifled their pockets. This is the third street car held up in the city and in this neighborhood within four days.

DETROIT'S LABOR RIOT.

Striking Poles Attack the Sheriff and His Deputies.

TWO OF THE STRIKERS KILLED.

Nine Others Seriously Injured, Including Sheriff Collins, Who Was Brutally Beaten with Shovels—One of the Injured May Die—Twenty Rioters Arrested.

DETROIT, April 19.—Wayne county's sheriff lies in a precarious condition, his body lacerated by the shovels of enraged rioters. Two Polish laborers are dead and the number injured is not yet definitely known. These unfortunate conditions are the result of a conflict which occurred between over 300 Poles and Sheriff Collins and five of his deputies. The fight was brought about by differences of opinion over the wages to be paid laborers by the city water commissioners for digging trenches for pipe laying in Greene Pointe township, just east of the city limits.

The commissioners decided to pay by the cubic yard but for the past day or two 300 Poles had hung about the vicinity, declaring they would neither work themselves nor allow others to unless paid $1.50 per day. No actual outbreak was anticipated but as a precaution Sheriff Collins and five deputies went to the scene to protect those who wished to work. Work progressed on a small scale during the morning, but Engineer Williams, becoming alarmed at the aspect of things, consulted some of the commissioners shortly before noon, and was instructed to quit work for the time being. Before he returned, however, rioting began.

Sheriff Collins and Deputy Siegthal, after telephoning for reinforcements, began to address the mob to pacify them. One of the Poles began an opposition harangue. The crowd thereupon started to annihilate the officers and the handful of laborers at work. As the advance the officers drew revolvers and fired over the strikers' heads, but the mob came on and the next volley was discharged into the crowd. Then the officers retreated slowly, firing as they went. Still the mob followed, one man dealing the sheriff a vicious blow on the head with his shovel. The other officers, the workmen and a reporter escaped, all being more or less wounded with shovels, but the helpless sheriff was brutally attacked. The mob then scattered, leaving the sheriff unconscious on the field. Two of the Poles were found dead, John Prelac and a comrade, name unknown.

The injured are: Sheriff Collins, Deputy Siegthal, Michael Kanofski, shot, will probably die; unknown Pole, Tony Gerkewisk, shot in thigh. —— Quadrupal, shot in breast. Detective W. E. Burch, ribs broken; Joe Jabowski, bullet wound in breast; John R. Fisher, reporter, badly bruised. There are probably several other Poles injured.

During the afternoon some twenty Poles were arrested, which intensified the bitterness, and the situation is being vindictively discussed by crowds of Poles in various parts of the city. It is rumored that they will attack the jail, but this is not believed. The water commissioners will probably not recede from their position, but work will proceed, if at all, under a strong guard.

THE GREAT NORTHERN STRIKE.

A Restraining Order Served on Strikers by Judge Sanborn.

ST. PAUL, April 19.—The order for the Great Northern men to strike at Wisconsin was issued last night. It first read for 7 o'clock this morning, but was later changed for 4 o'clock this morning.

A temporary restraining order issued by Judge Sanborn call for a hearing in this city on April 23, which time the leaders of the strike were to show cause why they should not be permanently restrained from "molesting or rendering in any way unfit for immediate and convenient use any of the property of the company used by it in the interstate commerce, etc., and from interfering with and obstructing the operation of any portion of said railroad engaged in such commerce, its telegraph system, etc." This restraining order was turned over to deputies by United States Marshals.

The reports received here from points along the line of the Great Northern are quick of the same tenor. The men are abandoning their peaceable intentions, and at the same time, without great violence, preventing the running of any trains and making up of any new trains. North Dakota points supplied with mail and provisions over the Great Northern are complaining seriously over their isolation.

At Wilmar, Minn., the [illegible] men surrendered their charter in the Brotherhood and all joined the American Railway Union, and the correspondent at that point adds that the engineers may follow their example. It is just the other way at Crookston, where the men refuse to have anything to do with the strike until ordered by their brotherhood.

At St. Cloud W. A. Morris, attorney for the Great Northern, conferred with the county officials with the object of securing their services in getting out the several trains. United States Deputy Marshal Banks is also there, and the company will attempt to make up trains and have the marshal serve injunctions to case of interference. The county officials refused to assist, but said that if violence was attempted warrants could be issued for assault.

Determined to Die Together.

BALTIMORE, April 19.—John Bankert, an aged truck gardener five miles from this city, was caught stealing leeks in the field of his neighbor, Jacob Myer, last Friday night, and was beaten by Myer. On Monday Mrs. Bankert, in get even, assaulted the wife and daughter of Myer, and on Tuesday the Myers swore out warrants against the Bankerts. When officers went to serve the warrants they found Mrs. Bankert dead and Bankert dying. He had strength sufficient to say: "I cut my wife's wrist so that she died. She cut mine first. I would rather be dead than be called a thief and when my wife found I was going to kill myself she wanted to die, too. We agreed that she should kill me and I would kill her."

Forest Fire Near Cape May.

CAPE MAY, April 19.—A forest fire about a mile wide raged yesterday at Court House, a village near here. The fire started near Price's mill, and with an easterly wind was driven toward the Delaware bay. Beside burning some valuable timber a large lot of cord wood has been destroyed. A big force of men has been fighting it, and it is now well under control. A great deal of anxiety is manifested because of fears of the wind rising and the fire breaking out again, as there are a number of dwelling houses in its path.

An Historic Celebration.

BOSTON, April 19.—Thousands of patriotic citizens crowded the thoroughfares adjoining the Old South church last night when the chime bells in the tower of that historic edifice were rung for the first time in half a century. Lanterns were hung as [illegible] says they were hung by Sexton Newman 118 years ago last night, to warn Paul Revere that the soldiers of King George were attempting a landing. The houses in the vicinity were hung with Chinese lanterns and bunting.

Copeland Out on Bail.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 19.—W. H. Copeland, who on Tuesday shot Lawyer Harple and litigant Bruning in the law office of Harrison, Miller & Elam, was arraigned in the police court yesterday, charged with shooting with intent to kill and carrying concealed weapons. Judge Stubbs fined Copeland $200 on the latter charge. Upon protest by Copeland's attorney this fine was stayed. Copeland was then released on a $5,000 bond, $2,500 on each charge.

A NOTABLE GATHERING

Royalties at Dinner in the Throne Room at Coburg.

ARRIVAL OF EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Welcomed by a Grand Military Display and Cheered by Waiting Thousands—Preparations in Honor of the Bride and Groom—Precautions Against Anarchists.

COBURG, April 19.—The marriage of Queen Victoria's grandchildren, inadvertently announced to have taken place yesterday, was solemnized today amid a scene of royal splendor. The central figure among the royalties assembled, aside from the bride and groom and the German emperor, is the venerable queen of Great Britain, who is received with enthusiasm wherever she appears in public. Twice yesterday she drove out. During her majesty's second outing she visited the statue erected to the memory of the late prince consort.

Last evening there was a family dinner in the throne room of the ducal palace. Queen Victoria sat in the center of the table, between the Russian czarowitz and Empress Fredrick, her daughter, and the Prince of Wales. Opposite the queen sat the Duchess of Coburg, between Emperor William and the bridegroom and bride. The royal dinner party was a most brilliant affair and remarkable from a historical point of view, when the conflicts of European policy are taken into consideration.

Emperor William arrived here at 5:55 p. m. and was welcomed by a grand military display. The Duke of Coburg and his son, the czarowitz, the Duke of Connaught and the Prince of Wales, who were among those who greeted the emperor upon his arrival, all wore German uniforms, and, with their military staffs, awaited his coming upon the platform of the railway station. A guard of honor and the band of the Thuringian regiment was also present, and the German anthem was played as the train bearing his imperial majesty drew up at the railway station.

The emperor wore the uniform of Queen Victoria's Dragoon regiment. He consistently embraced the Duke of Coburg and the other distinguished imperial and royal representatives and afterwards witnessed the march past of the troops. After the military display he proceeded to the ducal schloss. The route from the railway station to the palace was lined with troops, and behind the soldiers from thirty to forty thousand spectators were gathered. The emperor was heartily cheered.

The Schloss plats, the great open space in front of the ducal palace, last night was parked with humanity to witness an enormous torchlight procession given in honor of the betrothed couple. The whole center of the plats was a mass of flaming torches and lanterns of every conceivable color. Those taking part in the procession presented a series of figures under the windows of the palace. They were headed by the Coburg bicycle club, the members of which carried lanterns showing the colors of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha and of Hesse. Then followed hundreds of townsfolks and students bearing ball on lanterns and torches. The scene was a fairy like one.

The beautiful Rosenau Schloss, where the young couple will spend the honeymoon, and which is only four miles from Coburg, was the birthplace of Prince Albert, the husband of Queen Victoria, and in 1845 Queen Victoria spent about a fortnight there.

While the procession was passing a chain composed of men of Coburg surrounded the royal personages in the palace. Upon the conclusion of the singing the burgomaster of the city, with his head bared, read an address of congratulation to the bridal couple. The celebration ended with a fine display of fireworks. The old castle of Coburg, which stands over 500 feet above the town, presented a most beautiful appearance, being brilliantly illuminated from bottom to top.

The most perfect precautionary measures against an attempt upon the life of some member of the reigning families assembled here have been taken, and hundreds of detectives of all nations are here and mingling with the crowds.

This action has been taken in consequence of an information received by the police some time ago that an anarchist plot existed, the object of which was to take the life of Emperor William and the Crown[illegible] of Russia.

Not only Emperor William and the czarowitz, but Queen Victoria and the Prince of Wales are constantly guarded by picked men, and the ducal palace and all other buildings where the royal and imperial personages are quartered are guarded night and day by uniformed police, troops and detectives, and it is not believed that any stranger could succeed in getting near enough to the buildings to do harm to the occupants.

In addition to these precautions the police have required hotel and lodging house keepers and the proprietors of other places where strangers are entertained to furnish the authorities with the names and descriptions of their guests.

It is asserted that a plot to kill Emperor William while in Venice was discovered and prevented by the police of that city.

As a mark of recognition of the loyalty and good wishes of his subjects, and also to commemorate his marriage, the [illegible] have given [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] in [illegible] to the guard [illegible].

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS IN SULLIVAN COUNTY ARE DOING.

All the News from All Parts of the County—Many Matters of Interest Condensed from Our Sullivan Exchanges and Contributed by Wide-Awake Correspondents.

—The Michael Mullen farm near Parkeville, sold under mortgage foreclosure, recently, was purchased by Elizabeth Divine for $2,300.

—The Albert Davis farm near Livingston Manor was sold at mortgage sale, a few days ago, and was purchased by Wm. H. Young, for $3,000.

—The subscriptions to the fund for the purchase of a stone crusher for Liberty now amount to $750. The plan is that the crusher shall be the property of those who contribute to the fund, but that the village shall be allowed the privilege of using it.

—In the suit of P. F. Fauble vs. Misner and Prince, in Justice Darbee's court, on Friday last, the jury rendered a verdict giving Mr. Fauble damages to the amount of $45. This was a case in which Mr. Fauble let a horse to a commercial traveler, who in turn put up at the hotel of the defendants. On hitching up the horse, the hostler in the employ of Misner and Prince, allowed the animal to get away and when caught the horse was found to be injured.—Liberty Gazette.

A MAIL POUCH BURNED.

Knocked from a Crane Into a Fire Along the O. and W Track.

From the Norwich Sun.

As the day express, south bound, on the O. and W. Railroad, was passing Sherburne Four Corners, Tuesday morning, the catcher on the mail car failed to secure and throw into the car the pouch o mail hanging on the crane, but instead threw it into a fire that was raging beside the track, and the mail in the pouch was greatly damaged, some of it being entirely burned to a crisp. It is reported that the cause of the accident was the improper and careless manner in which the pouch was hung on the crane by the agent of the railroad company at that place. The Post Office Department and the railroad company will investigate the matter at once and the blame will be fixed.

"BLUE JEANS".

A Popular Play With Scenic Novelties at the Casino.

"Blue Jeans," Joseph Arthur's delightful reflex of rustic life, love and politics in Hoosierdom, is this season winning the same large attendance for which it has been famed since its first phenomenal engagement in New York. When the play is presented here, the six scenic novelties in the perspective of the Ohio River and home of the old Indiana cobbler, "Tutewiler," orchard and rustic lane of Bascom's house, exterior of the country saw mill and its realistic interior; hall of the Poe House and the rustic parlor of the rugged "Tutewiler," will be reproduced with every accessory employed in its astounding metropolitan run. At the Casino, Saturday evening.

BARLOW BROTHERS' MINSTRELS.

A Popular Company to Appear at the Casino Next Week.

On Tuesday, April 24th, the Barlow Brothers' Minstrels will be at the Casino. They everywhere present an entertainment not less brilliant than that which has so frequently delighted the metropolis with its completeness. Lovers of good music and wholesome fun should avail themselves of this opportunity and see America's representative minstrels as this will be their only appearance here this season.

IT SUPPORTS ALL CLAIMS.

One of the most remarkable cases brought to public notice is that of Mr. J. S. Beach, of Stone Ridge, N. Y., who for years suffered from stone in the kidney. Early in August he was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. By the 16th of September he voided a good-sized stone, and he has been a well man since. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is not a mere soother of pain, but by its alterative action purifies the blood, dissolves and causes the expulsion of gravel and stone from the kidneys and bladder. The testimony of hundreds vouches for this. It will build up a system run down by overwork. All druggists.

The sun's Fuel.

How was it originally imparted to our great luminary? Was he born in fire and has he been in an active state of combustion since the day of his birth, or was he once a dark cold body, lifting himself and thither and yet going nowhere in particular?

If once a ragged piece of somber hue, why is he now the torchlight as well as the heating apparatus of a great system of worlds, and, being both, who is equal to the task of calculating even the cycle of time when the great change took place? It may have been that there were no worlds in what is now the solar system prior to that time, or, if there were, probably only two.

These two black giants of this darkened portion of the great universe may have collided and coalesced into a vast nebula, from whence the whole of our system has been evolved. If light and heat were thus mechanically produced and still retained to a certain degree in our sun, the largest fragment of the two colliding worlds, is it not altogether likely that the great solar fires will finally burn out and that as a result man and all living creatures will become extinct on all of the inhabited planets?—St. Louis Republic.

Whited Financial Sepulchers.

With some very few exceptions, which it were invidious to name, but which all in the railway world know as such exceptions, the railway corporations of the United States literally live from hand to mouth and have no working or reserve capital whatever, although their business requires it more than any other. The railways are capitalized for much more than they are worth. Usually the bonded indebtedness, car trust certificates, equipment and terminal securities, taken at par, represent a value in excess of the cost of the road, and upon them fixed interest is compulsorily payable. Hence, whatever the road earns upon actual cost must, unless it exceed, say, 6 per cent, be paid out annually in the shape of interest alone.—Simon Sterne in Forum.

Used Visiting Cards First.

The Chinese are said to be the originators of visiting cards So long ago as the period of the Tang dynasty (618-907) visiting cards were known to have been in use in China From ancient times to the present day the Chinese have observed the strictest ceremony with regard to the paying of visits. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising No druggist is without it.

THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1874.

"Bob" Fitzsimmons, pugilist, is suing the Pennsylvania Railroad for $20,000 damages, for a blow received from one of its employees. Evidently Mr. Fitzsimmons regards the body of a pugilist, outside the prize ring, as something very sacred.

Conkey is said to aspire to the Republican nomination for President, and the real motive for his march to Washington with his army is the maintenance of his presidential ambitions by showing that he is master upon any of his fields. Peter Conkey, Esq., is showing a very poor head of a soldier.

The fight against Senator Conover's re-election, which is one of the features of 1874 in Pennsylvania every which way, is HOT UP. It don't bother Cameron in the least. With $150 to a MAN question of dollars. And the belief is general that if he wasn't so ready to fork up his dollars there wouldn't be half so many Republicans anxious to fight him.

The fifth cruise and pilot brakes of New Jersey went to Trenton, yesterday, to protest against the passage of a bill which makes it unlawful for them to wear the dish. They got laughable consolation, and instead of trying to exert the power of their lungs and purses on the hard hearts of the law makers, will buy in a boat, threatening to sue the State for $100,000 if the bill was passed.

Gov. Flower, yesterday, appointed as Justice of the Supreme Court William L. Learned, of Albany; Dr. Austin Flint, of New York, and ex-Assemblyman Ismet T. Deyo, of Schenectady, to re-investigate Broadway and the management of the Metropolitan Retrenchery. The members of the commission are all men of money and high character, but if their report is contemporary of Broadway and its contents, will the governor make it safe to proclaim that the Retrenchery managers will have gall enough to have it set aside and still conduct investigations ordered and even mandamus till a whitewashing report is made.

Southport has broken out in ring-ring prices. The origin of the disease has been traced to the rag-mill of the Southport Manufacturing Company, where the "Hibernia" brussels carpet is made. Some of the employees of the mill, in Pennsylvania every month, get $277.50. It don't bother Southport in the least. With $10 to a MAN question of dollars. And the belief is general that if he wasn't so ready to fork up his dollars there wouldn't be half so many Republicans anxious to fight him.

With $10 to a MAN question of dollars, $1,000 invested in this small manufacturing of the Southport Company pretties about will be made up several times from month, but it is important to think of what dollars represent there. There is a manufacturing company in the immediate of those dollars be-ons sent to the prison, for half it was been lost to the thirteen thousand men are the most favored persons outside the trade. Society has the right to protect the thieves and the criminal of personal liberty, but even it does this it is bound to at least educate every possible cure of the dying beasts of its revenge. To set them to work handicapped with all the brutalness and death dealing disorders to which poor human kind is exposed to, is the against evolutions, etc., indeed. It is an evil at least that our boasted civil institution is a delusion and a sham!

The speech delivered, yesterday, Mr. Hoar the Wilson bill and the proposed [illegible] by Senator Morrill, of Vermont, is to be spoken of as a great exhibition in any intellectual point noted by one of his great [illegible], he having, last week, celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday. It is replete with gleams of electricity and is vigorous and outspoken as were his public statements in years long past by. There is another side to this speech, however, not so deserving of admiration, and that is the references with which this octogenarian politician betrays his support for high protective tariff with figures as special figures. For instance, what could be more unfair than is the comparison which he institutes of the prices for carpets in 1871 and 1874. He shows Brussels carpets were $1 per yard in 1871, and fifty cents in 1874; and that in the same years yellow carpets were 90 and 45c. The venerable Senator might have called the attention of his hearers first to clearly to the fact that in 1871 prices for carpets, as for everything else but silver, were based upon ruinously depreciated paper currency; whereas the prices quoted in 1874 are based upon gold. In those conditions, as at war, there is enough to largely account for these wide apart points; growth of competition and decreasing prices the world over have done the work. Greater stimuli is still enough to be found in experiment,—labor in employment of skill.

A hundred policemen armed with clubs entered up 'Gill Smith' tenements in the 21st Ward Police district of Brooklyn last night, and dispersed a meeting of the Eighth Regiment workingmen composed of the women and child in the district, in which there have been of late many cases of small-pox. A greater outrage on personal liberty was never perpetrated outside of Russia. Small-pox is bad enough, but health laws, as enforced in times of panic, are even worse.

The decline of Colorado's silver mining interests has been followed by a wonderful development of its possibilities as a gold producing State. Since January 1st, fifty new gold placers have been discovered in twenty-one counties. There has also been greatly increased activity in the old gold districts of the State, some of which have trebled their former production. Conservative estimates place Colorado's gold product this year at $30,000,000 as against $7,000,000 in 1873 and about $5,000,000 in 1872.

It is most singular that railroad operations invariably make an issue about wages with their employees in bad times,—times when the business of the roads is already [illegible]—just when every resource is taxed to keep them from insolvency. Again and again employes, by their best judgment as to when to strike for better terms and better wages, have formed receiverships, when, had they paused to take in the situation, they would have seen the wisdom of self interest dictated that they should make concessions rather than fresh demands. Indeed it is the worst of experiences that the men strike when the roads are driven with traffic, when the wheels are turning red hot. Just why it is that the railroader frowns on his read "when it is down" is past finding out.

Hon. Hiram D. Pulliam, City Treasurer of Fort Wayne, Ind., is $1,000 short in her accounts and has been allowed to resign. She managed the business of her office in a eminently feminine way, putting the money she received in a bag in her bureau drawer; once a week she took the bag to the bank, emptied it and was satisfied with whatever such it yielded. Mrs. Pulliam will not be prosecuted. The men who have a knife to cut about this city government are [illegible] to hold her to account for [illegible] possibly that women are not to hold public office, but it does deprive the applause for women ordinarily of their clear and very chivalrous commendation which women have the right to win and hold after there will be an end to the bugbear of female and neglect of official duty.

THE ROYAL WEDDING.
By Associated Press.

Cowes, April 15.—Grand Duke Sergius Louis of Hesse, was married, today, to the grand Princess Victoria Melita, eldest daughter of Grand Duke Alexis, grand-daughter of Queen Victoria. The marriage ceremony in the chapel of the Royal palace, at Kent.

WEDDING.

Mr. E. Clifford Wallace and Miss Ella Blair, daughter of Hon. John A. Blair, both of Somerset, Pa., were married at high noon, yesterday, at the Simpson M. E. Church in that city. The church was crowded with the friends of the young couple. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. C. Floyd, the pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Mr. Van Sant, of Michigan.

The bride's sister, Miss Lillian Blair, was the bridesmaid, and Mr. W. W. Wallace, brother of the groom, was the best man.

The ushers were Messrs. E. E. Knight, of Binghamton, and R. F. Connelly, Wm. Freeman and H. B. Williams, of Scranton.

After the ceremony a reception was given to about forty of the relatives and friends at the residence of the bride's mother at 206, Hyde Park avenue.

The happy couple left on a D., L. and W. train for a trip to Philadelphia, Washington and Old Point Comfort. After their return they will take up their residence with Mrs. Wallace's brother.

The bride is an accomplished young lady, a skilful musician, and for some time has been the organist of the church to which she was married.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. John A. Wallace, of this city,—and was born and, until a few years ago, resided here. He is a prosperous dry goods merchant, being a member of the firm of Connelly & Wallace. He is a young man of most excellent qualities, and is deserving of so estimable a wife as we are assured he has won. He has many friends in this city who will earnestly wish for him a long and happy married life.

Miss Kate Mahoney, youngest daughter of the late James Mahoney, of Hanford street, this city, and Mr. John C. Simpson, of Plainfield, N. J., were united in marriage, at St. Joseph's Church, at half o'clock, this afternoon.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Hennessy. The church was well filled with relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The bridegroom and Miss Mary Mahoney, sister of the bride, and Mr. E. F. Cutler, of Plainfield, N. J., were groomsmen.

The bride, wedding dress was made of white corded silk, with lace trimmings with veil to match, her sparkling dress was of navy blue cloth, with gold ornaments. The bridegroom's dress was of black broadcloth.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] were driven to the home of the bride, on Hamilton place, where they gave a reception to a number of relatives and personal friends. A handsome wedding supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson will leave on this week, for Plainfield, where they will take up their residence.

The popularity of the bride was demonstrated by the large number of valuable and useful presents received.

She is a most estimable lady, and while the best wishes of her friends here, will follow her to her new home, there is very special regret at her departure from Binghamton.

The groom was formerly a resident of this city, is a prominent member of the Royal Arcanum Band Club, under, and popular.

The Argus unites in the congratulations and good wishes of Mr. and Mrs. Simpson's many friends in Binghamton.

Mr. John William Myers and Miss Elizabeth Jenkins, nee E. E. Barbers, were married at the home of the bride, No. 8 Vail avenue, at 7:30 o'clock, last evening. Rev. David Evans, pastor of Green Church, officiating.

The negligee shirts are unusual, because they are so cheap and of such good quality. Then, too, the materials and the patterns are correct. They will wear when others are used up. In short, we can find no better in the market. It does not pay to buy an inferior article, and such we never sell.

GETTING READY TO PAVE.

Making Sewer Connections on North Street—Water Pipes that should be Looked After.

The work of making a sewer connection with the Stewart property on North street, was commenced, this morning. It should have been done last fall, and then there would have been no probability of the ground, settling after the new pavement is laid, which it is now likely to do.

We understand that several of the water service pipes, on this street, are almost closed by corrosion and in a very short time will have to be replaced. This matter should be looked into and if the report is correct, new connections should be made at once and the earth settled as much as possible with water when the excavation is refilled.

The experience with the old pavement on North street, should not be repeated if a new and expensive pavement is to be laid.

VERY YOUNG THIEVES.

Boys, Aged Ten and Twelve Years, Confess to Many Crimes—Stole Anything and Everything—Forgery One of Their Misdeeds—Let Off With a Fine.

During the past six months a number of petty thefts have been reported to the police, and several boys have been arrested but discharged for lack of evidence to convict them. Last week, several boys were arrested on the charge of stealing a wheelbarrow from the back yard of a Highland avenue residence. Three of the gang swore positively that they had seen the fourth have the wheelbarrow in his possession. They have had several hearings and were to have been examined again to-morrow morning, but this will now be unnecessary, for by their own confession and other absolute proof, the real culprits have turned up in the persons of ten-year old Chauncey Briggs and twelve-year-old Clarence Holley, who were not members of the above gang.

The number of crimes committed by these young lads, as confessed by them to the Recorder, would fill two columns of this paper.

For some time past the disappearance of whips, from vehicles which had been left along the streets, has been reported, and, on Tuesday last, Clarence Holly was seen to take a whip from a buggy which had been left in Orchard street. Officer Wood arrested him, and for two days has been working with him, with the result that he confessed, implicating his youthful pal.

The wheelbarrow was taken from the back yard of a residence where the precious pair had gone to beg, they having concocted a story of having come to Middletown from Otisville and wanted money to get home. They worked the scheme successfully in several instances, until they came to the house above mentioned, where finding no one at home they helped themselves to the wheelbarrow which they took down Franklin street, up through Union, Hanford and Harding streets to Fulton and then to the auction rooms on Mill street, where they sold it to Mr. Emmet McQuoid for seventy-five cents. He gave them a dollar and they failed to return with the change.

They confessed to having gone with another lad to the post office and called for the mail of several merchants. In one instance, which occurred several weeks ago, they got a check for $25, forged the endorsement and had the check cashed by a merchant at the North End. The forgery was quickly discovered and the matter was hushed up, the parents of the lads making good the money taken.

The Recorder questioned them closely and they confessed to having stolen money from milk pails left on stoops; to stealing two bottles of milk from a refrigerator; to having taken five knives from Brink & Clark; tobacco from Ritter & Beyea's, and whips from the Asylum wagon, from C. G. Hedge, a Mr. Rook, on North street, and from Mr. Randall the painter. They also stole a currycomb from Taylor's coal yard, and failed to pay for newspapers, which they had taken to sell for W. H. Beakes.

The parents of the children pleaded guilty for them to the charge of petit larceny, and the Recorder was about to send them to the House of Refuge, but owing to their extreme youth relented, and fined them each ten dollars, which their parents paid.

The boys were perfectly composed during the examination, neither of them shedding a tear, or giving evidence that they recognized the enormity of their offenses.

When asked by the Recorder "what ought I do with you?" the younger scamp replied, "let us go free, if we be a good boy after this." He was the spokesman for the pair and his memory of his misdeeds was fresher than that of his companion, who did not volunteer much information, but acknowledged that all that the little fellow told was true.

Monhagen's Reception Last Night.

The reception given by the Monhagens in their truck house, last evening, was very largely attended by the members and their lady friends. Dancing and whist were the order of the evening. Roescher and Sayer furnished the music.

For the amusement of the ladies the Edison phonograph was on exhibition.

Light refreshments were served, and after a most pleasant evening the party broke up at 1 o'clock.

A Newburgh Bandit Killed in New Jersey.

Charles Miller, of Newburgh, was run over by a train in New Jersey, near Bound Brook, on Monday, receiving injuries from which he died Monday evening, in the hospital at Plainfield. He was aged seventeen years and had been implicated in numerous offenses against the law. The Newburgh police held two warrants for his arrest. He had been a fugitive from justice for several weeks past.

Newton to Be Lighted by Electricity.

The town council of Newton, on Tuesday, contracted with Skelton & Sons for sixty-two arc electric lights of 800 candle power, to burn until 1 a. m., and also to light two engine houses, for $3,500 per year.

ALMOST READY TO RUN ITS CARS

Progress of Work on the Electric Railroad—The Power House Plant Nearly Ready for Use—Mounting the Motors—Testing the Engines—A Well Equipped Plant.

Although the street railroad company is not making much progress in the matter of getting in to Goshen, it is making considerable progress with the work at the power station, and it will not be long before everything will be in readiness to operate the cars.

The engines are already set up, the steam and exhaust connections being all made, so that the steam end of the plant is now in readiness.

The trucks and motor equipment for three cars have arrived and the motors have already been mounted on two trucks, which are now ready for the car bodies to be placed on them.

The trucks are made by the Dorner & Dutton M'f'g Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, and are without exception the finest street car truck now made, the springs being so arranged as to prevent any disagreeable oscillations to the car even at the highest speeds.

The motors and electric equipments for the cars are furnished by the General Electric Company, of New York, and are of their latest type. Two "W. P. 30" motors are placed on each truck, a pinion on the shaft of the armature of each motor working in a gearwheel on the corresponding truck axle.

Each motor is powerful enough of itself to propel a loaded car and one trail car at a speed of six miles per hour, it being possible to run at a speed of twenty miles per hour on a level by using both motors.

The controlling device is by far the most perfect yet introduced, giving the motorman absolute control of the car and enabling him to come to a stop when running at a speed of ten miles an hour within a car length.

The material and apparatus for the station switchboard is on hand and work on the wiring will begin, to-day.

Six cars have already been ordered, three being closed cars and three open.

The men were busy, yesterday, putting in the switches which lead to the car house and two tracks are now finished.

The trestle work for the coal dump is nearly completed and the lower courses of masonry of the culvert over Draper brook, which runs through the street railway property, are finished.

The car house is admirably arranged, the tracks being elevated about five feet above the concrete floor, which permits easy access to the motors and trucks for inspection and repair.

The engines were run, yesterday, on a trial and though driven at a speed of 200 revolutions per minute, operated much more smoothly and with less noise and vibration than the ordinary sewing machine.

The steam and electrical plant is in duplicate, so that an accident to either set will not cause a shut down.

Taking it all in all the street railway company has put in a model plant, and while it has not wasted money on frills and furbelows, everything it has used in its construction is of the best quality, intended for wear and durability.

Mr. George Hess, of Scranton, Pa., has been appointed engineer. Mr. Hugh Culkin, of Scranton, is assembling the motors and trucks, and as soon as the cars arrive will commence wiring.

It is to be regretted that the action of the residents on Benton avenue prevents the street railway from having the only practicable route to the Main street depot, and is the real reason why the company has not already begun to build the line to "Midway Park" and Goshen.

A PRIVATE HOP

Given at the Assembly Rooms, Last Evening.

There was a private hop at the Assembly Rooms, last evening, at which were present about seventy-five couples, and we have it from some of those who attended that it was one of the most enjoyable of recent social events.

Berg and Bright furnished excellent music and dancing was kept up until 3.30 o'clock, this morning, except for an interval for supper, when the company adjourned to Schwartz's and Totten's restaurants.

The affair was managed by a committee of young men consisting of Messrs. Edwin Jakley and Fred S. Garrison.

Hon. M. N. Kane Robbed.

The residence of Lawyer M. N. Kane, of Warwick, was entered Tuesday night, by thieves. The light-fingered gentry took Mr. Kane's trousers outside the house and rifled the pockets of $95. A gold watch and chain in his vest, which was alongside of the trousers, were, singularly, overlooked by the burglars. An unsuccessful attempt was also made the same night to enter the store of the Hynard Brothers, of Warwick.

Robert Louis Stevenson's Home.

"Vailima," which is Samoan for "fine waters" is the name which the Stevensons have given to their beautiful home in Apia. Four miles from the beach and 600 feet above the sea level a clearing was made among the trees, and the house, a rambling two story structure, painted dark gray and with a red roof, was erected. Roomy and comfortable porches encircle both stories of the house, and from the upper, looking northward, can be seen the "fine waters" of the Pacific. At the back are the green slopes of the Apian mountains. There is no driveway to "Vailima" from the town, the house being accessible only to foot passengers or to those mounted on the sure footed native horses.—Ladies' Home Journal.

When There Were No Plumbers.

Lord Fountainhall, in 1674, says that there are no plumbers in Scotland, because there is no need for them. Happy simplicity of our ancestors! Now every man should be his own plumber. No man should be allowed to marry till he has passed an examination in plain and fancy plumbing. Few know what to do if the pipes are frozen or if the gas meter is blocked. If you are practicing with a pistol, never load carelessly cut a gas pipe, or do anything but go for help. Exhibit soap bubbles the size of a cocoanut. This accident is not to be recommended, less frequent than suicide in flood.—Saturday Review.

HOW FAR IS THE SUN

NEW LIGHT WHICH HAS BEEN THROWN ON THE PROBLEM

Results of Observations Made by the Coast Survey at the Sandwich Islands—The Distance to the Sun Is Something Like Ninety-five Million Miles, More or Less.

A little new light has recently been thrown on the problem of the distance of the sun. This is the great yardstick of astronomy. For more than a century every effort has been made to ascertain the distance as accurately as possible. Methods direct and indirect have been employed. Concerning the fact that the knowledge thus dubiously gained can displacement that the stars undergo in consequence of the fact that we are looking at them from a globe which is not standing still, but is moving in an orbit around the sun at the rate of about 18½ miles in a second. Light travels 186,380 miles in a second. The ratio of the velocity of the flying earth to that of light measures the displacement in the position of the stars that is called their aberration. But, manifestly, if we can learn precisely how far the earth travels in a second, we shall know just how long its orbit is. We know that the earth takes one year, or, more exactly, 31,558,150 seconds, to go once around that orbit. If, then, we can find out with rigorous accuracy how far it goes in a second, we can at once calculate not only the length of the orbit, but the distance of the sun, which depends directly upon the size of the orbit. Of course allowance must be made for the fact that the orbit, instead of being a circle, is an ellipse, and that consequently the earth's rate of traveling varies a little. But mathematics take care of that.

Now, we have seen that the displacement, or aberration of the stars furnishes a means of determining the ratio of the earth's velocity in its orbit to the known velocity of light. If that aberration is accurately measured, it must give, by a simple calculation, the velocity of the earth and the distance of the sun. The aberration as ascertained at the Sandwich Islands is slightly smaller than previous measurements had made it. It amounts to 20.493 seconds of arc. This gives for the average velocity of the earth in its orbit 18.4582 miles in a second, and for the distance of the sun 92,709,000 miles. The distance derived from the observation of the transit of Venus in 1874 was about 620,000 miles less than this, while that calculated from the transit of 1882 was about 190,000 miles greater. But Laplace's value of the solar parallax, adopted by him an-

AN "ARGUS" MAN OFF DUTY AIMS AT SEVERAL SUBJECTS.

Playing Marbles by Electric Light—Today's Police Court Record—A Very Sorry Showing.

At a quarter of ten o'clock, last night, I saw three very small boys, the largest of them not more than ten years old, playing marbles under an electric light The game was evidently for keeps, for the language used was so forcible that it indicated a very deep interest in the result of the game The appearance of the youngsters showed that they came from homes of wretchedness, filth and squalor, but no matter how miserable their homes, it is not necessary to say that boys of that age would have been better off at home than in the streets at that time of night. It does not necessarily follow that the boys I saw, last night, will go wrong, but the life they are permitted to lead, and perhaps forced to lead by the indifference and neglect, and possibly, the cruelty of their parents, makes the chances very heavy that they will be found among the tough boys a few years hence, among the young toughs a few years later, and in the criminal class as tough boyhood and young manhood reaches its almost inevitable development. It seems a pity that society does not intervene and take charge of boys who are neglected, as these boys of whom I write certainly are, and by caring for them during the period when their characters are being formed, fit them for useful manhood, and so escape the necessity of caring for them later on and of protecting itself against them.

The story told in another column of the many thefts and other crimes committed by two small boys, who were before the Recorder, this morning, is anything but pleasant reading. It seems almost impossible that two youngsters could have carried on such a career of crime without their wrongdoing having been discovered by their parents or without their being detected by the victims of their depredations. But bad as the young offenders are, they are white robed angels in comparison with the three boys arrested, last week, on suspicion of having stolen a wheelbarrow and who, to clear themselves, swore that a fourth boy, arrested at the same time they were, was the thief. The confession of the boys in court, this morning that they stole the barrow and sold it, clears the lad about whom a network of evidence was being wound by the perjured testimony of his companions, but had it not been for the chance discovery and arrest of the real culprits and their frank acknowledgment of their guilt, an innocent boy would certainly have been found guilty. A boy who steals is bad enough, but a boy who swears to a lie that tends to fasten guilt on an innocent companion, ought to be "reformed" by Brockway and his paddle.

A SINGULAR AND TRAGIC DEATH.

Samuel Curlew, of Newburgh, Killed by an Explosion in His Own Yard.

Samuel Curlew, of Newburgh, met death, yesterday, in a singular manner. He was trying to remove a large root of an old tree from his yard and finally concluded to try blasting. He bored two holes in the root and filled them with gun powder, lighted the fuse and went into the house

Soon there was an explosion and Mr. Curlew supposing both charges had exploded,—went out and when within a few feet of the spot, the second blast was discharged and a large piece of the root struck him on the side, crushing his ribs and injuring the heart, from the effects of which he died in half an hour.

Mr. Curlew was a native of Ayrshire, Scotland, and was fifty-four years old. He leaves a wife and five children.

AN INTERESTING DEBATE

The Columbus Social Club Discusses Labor Organizations.

There was a very interesting debate at the meeting of the Columbus Social Club, last evening. The subject was, "Resolved, That the labor organizations are detrimental to the working classes."

The speakers on the affirmative side of the question were J. C. Degnan, August Heineman, Dr. T. S. Gillson, Thomas Gillen, James Gavin and Henry Bradley.

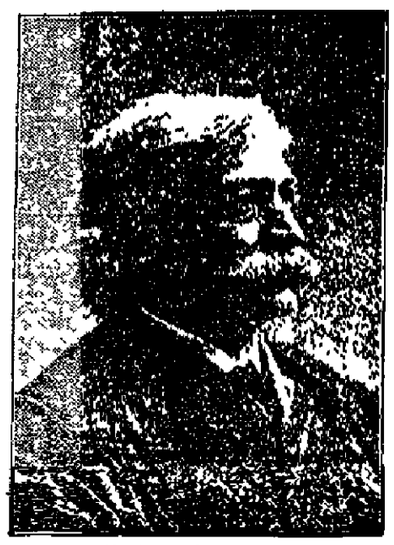
The negative was represented by F. J. Nearn, Frank Cullinan, James Short, W. S. Clark, C. P. Sadlier and J. H. Tierney.

The judges were Messrs John Gavin, J. M. Garland and Edward Butts who, after mature deliberation, decided in favor of the affirmative.

It is the intention of the club to hold debates on topics of general interest from time to time.

Struck by a Trolley Car.

James L. Day, a member of the New York Stock Exchange and a prominent resident of Ridgewood, where he had made his home for the last 25 years, was struck down, run over and instantly killed by an electric car on Main street, Paterson, Tuesday evening. The body was shockingly mangled.



The Highest Place for Life.

The highest place which may be occupied for life in this country is that of Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. Presidents may come and go, senators, cabinet officers and members of the House shift with the tide of politics, but death alone, in the ordinary course of events, can make change in the legal tribunal. It follows, as a matter of course, that a splendid portrait with accompanying biographical sketch of Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller should appear in "America's Greatest Men and Women," the great work which the DAILY ARGUS is offering its readers for but ten cents a part when accompanied by one coupon cut from this paper. Sixteen magnificent parts, with sixteen splendid portraits and biographies in each, of living great men and women! The chance is not one to be neglected.

ON THE ARMORY ALLEYS.

An Interesting Bowling Match Between Teams of Officers and Privates—The Former Win Two Out of Three Games.

Several weeks ago, when the officers and staff defeated Sergeant Knapp's section in a bowling match on the Armory alleys, a team of privates from the company immediately issued a challenge to the winners. The "non-coms" being included in the challenge, the team was made up as follows: Second Lieut. J. D. Stivers, First Sergeant Decker, Corporals Royce and Nickinson, and Private Ashley, of the Hospital Corps.

The team selected by the Privates was composed of Privates C Dickerson, J E. Barnes, D Shafer, Geo. Bowler and C. O. Brinkerhoff, five of the steadiest bowlers in the company. The general supposition was that they would "win at a walk."

When the teams "lined up" for the first game a slight nervousness was apparent on the part of the Privates, and they were unable to shake it off, with the result that the Staff captured the first game easily by a score of 679 to 637.

The second game started off like another victory for the Staff, but the Privates settled down to hard work, caught their opponents in the fourth frame, and passed them in the fifth, forging ahead until they finished with 714 points to their opponents 634

The third and last game proved to be the best of the evening. The Staff jumped into the lead in the first frame and at one time were nearly 100 points ahead but the Privates kept at it and reduced the lead to 55, the score at the finish being 720 to 674 in favor of the Staff.

The following is the summary:

IN THE RAILROAD WORLD.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad has established a new fire service in Jersey City. There is a Worthington pump, with a suction pipe eighteen inches in diameter, which is capable of throwing five streams of water over the big train shed. At a test, Wednesday, a stream was thrown over a smoke stack 120 feet high. There are ten fire plugs inside and outside the depot.

ESCAPED THIEVES CAPTURED.

The Prisoners Who Escaped from the Bergen County Jail Arrested in Matamoras.

Anthony Gadaka and Morris Sheap, the two notorious thieves who escaped from the Bergen county jail, at Hackensack, last Sunday, were captured about dusk, Wednesday evening, by Officer E A. Brown, of Warwick, N. Y., assisted by John J. Fieldman, of Port Jervis, on the outskirts of the village of Matamoras, Pa., across the Delaware River from Port Jervis.

Brown saw the two men on the outskirts of Warwick, Tuesday morning. They asked the way to Milford, and did not tarry for answer. Brown became suspicious of them, and telegraphed that evening a description of them to Sheriff Bogart. He answered, Wednesday morning, that they were the men who had escaped.

Accompanied by a sewing machine agent named Titus, Brown started in pursuit in a wagon. They traced the men by a devious route to Port Jervis, a distance of forty miles, and learned that they had crossed the toll bridge to Matamoras.

Securing Fieldman's assistance, they drove down the Milford road and saw the fugitives sitting in the woods where the road skirted the base of the mountains. The officers drove on a short distance until they met the Milford stage. Leaving the horse with Titus, Brown and Fieldman got in the stage and, when opposite Gadaka and Sheap, they jumped out and Brown drew a revolver, and the men surrendered without resistance. They acknowledged that they had escaped from jail, and Gadaka said he was a fool for doing so. They had walked the entire distance from Hackensack.

STEAM HOLES IN A FIELD.

A Queer Phenomenon of Nature Which Is to Be Seen on a Farm Out In Oregon.

On the farm of S. R. T. Jones, about three-fourths of a mile south of Hubbard and only a few rods from the stage road, is a curiosity which at present is attracting considerable attention It has been noticed for the past 15 years, but never has aroused such interest as in the past few months. On a space of, say, 20 feet square, appears this what is it It can be seen just after a rain or while the ground is filled or covered with water. There are numerous holes about as large as common lead or slate pencils, from which gas or air is constantly escaping with a sound as of meat frying or the hissing of water on a hot stove or iron. Sometimes the jets are may be stronger than at others, but it is there just the same

The pressure is so great that if these vents are closed they will in a few minutes send the soil flying as though a miniature blast had exploded A large, heavy iron pan was inverted over some of the strongest vents, the rim being buried in mud, preventing any escape of gas A man then sat down on the pan and awaited results, which were not long in coming, as the pan and man were lifted bodily The gas or air was forced through instead of out no change was noticed. It was tested by fire, but we cannot say it burned. One peculiarity of the soil is that no matter how wet the surrounding ground may be this spot plows up hard and dry. A well close by keeps up a constant hissing, and the water reveals nothing out of common.—Woodburn (Or.) Independent

Of Its Power as a Blood Purifier

Hood's Cures the Severest Cases of Scrofula.

No form of scrofula is more dreaded, more tenacious, or more difficult to cure than goitre, or swellings in the neck, often growing to enormous running sores. The fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla cures this severest form of Scrofula, absolutely proves its great merit as a blood purifier. Read this:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell: Mother has derived such marvelous benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla that she wants me to write about it. A year ago the grip left her with and dreadful faint feelings. Then her neck began to swell and became very unsightly; she could not keep anything on her stomach; she was rapidly running down, and we were very anxious about her. We read of a case of goitre cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and she decided to try this medicine. Before she had taken one bottle the swelling began to decrease; she continued with the medicine and has continued to improve till she has and strength. She weighs 185 lbs., and our whole family can truthfully say Hood's Sarsaparilla is a blessing to mankind. We believe it saved mother from the grave." Miss GERTRUDE SLAUSON, Gansevoort, N. Y.

THAT WE CAN CLEAN CARPETS

is a settled fact; that our prices are low, no one disputes. We are responsible for all carpets entrusted to us, and satisfaction is guaranteed or money refunded. Clothes Don't Make the Man, But They Help Mightily.

In selecting your clothing you should bear in mind that good quality and moderate prices go hand in hand, and in touching on the matter we would dwell only long enough to inform you that we handle the proper line—all our own make—and that it will be to your own interest to call on us before buying.

Suits to Order from $16.50.

This is a new feature in this city. High prices for clothing to order have heretofore reigned supreme and only the wealthy could enjoy it, but now they are within the reach of everyone. Our reputation for good work is well known, and we warrant a fit every time or it is no sale. Pants to order from $4 up. Bear in mind that we keep everything, in fact, that the stronger sex wear, barring shoes.
